Forecast For Wales
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Thursday 01 Apr 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Skies clearing and chilly tonight, turning unsettled on Sunday.

This Evening and Tonight:
Light winds, but still feeling chilly this evening and tonight. Frost is likely to form across the country by dawn under clear skies, especially in sheltered areas. Minimum temperature 0 deg C (32 deg F).

Friday:
A dry day with the odd cloud, but plenty of sunshine throughout. Temperatures around seasonal average, but feeling less warm than of late. Clear skies develop by evening. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Bright and fine Saturday, with overnight frost and fog. Then turning unsettled later on Sunday and Monday as showers and cold temperatures move in southwards, turning wintry at times.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.